NATIONAL SUPPORT CENTRE FOR AGRICULTURE

(KOWR) is a state-owned institution supervised by the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development. It was established to support agri-food producers and exporters and the development of innovative agriculture, as well as to improve the quality of life in rural areas. The role of the KOWR is to build a positive image and recognition of Polish agri-food products abroad under the slogan "POLAND TASTES GOOD." The KOWR supports Polish entrepreneurs in the agri-food industry in their efforts to expand into new markets by organizing trade missions and national stands at food trade fairs abroad.

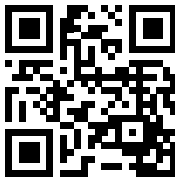

The logo for "Poland tastes good" features the words "Poland" and "tastes good" in a white, cursive script font, with "Poland" on the top line and "tastes good" on the bottom line. The text is centered within a solid red circle. The background of the entire page is a stylized landscape with rolling hills in various shades of green, from light to dark, creating a sense of depth and movement.

CONTIMAX

Contimax was established 32 years ago in the south of Poland – region that may seem as far from the Polish sea as possible. Even though Bochnia is closer to the mountains than to the Baltic Sea, Contimax has managed to open three production sites supplying the Polish market and systematically growing its international client base, and to guarantee its position as one of the biggest fish producers in Poland. At the moment we supply our products to 30 countries all over the world. Wide assortment of products and diversified production have allowed us to become strategic supplier within the category. Our portfolio also includes products dedicated to HoReCa industry.
